10:50 am—11:35 am Practice Group Breakout Session Block 1

ADR: Best Mediation Practices.

With over 21 years ADR practice and over 3,000 cases, seasoned mediator and arbitrator Sam Q. Carlisle will share wisdom and insights in this in-depth conversation led by David Lewis.

Sam Q. Carlisle II, Attorney at Law
David O. Lewis, Bryant & Lewis, P.A.

Commercial: Rule 12(b)(6) Motions: Are They Worth It.

Rule 12 provides defense attorneys with a great tool for arguing that cases should be dismissed in their early stages, thereby saving their clients significant time and expense. However, rather than dismissing claims outright, courts sometimes permit parties to amend their claims. Also, some judges have suggested defendants should consider saving their dispositive arguments until the summary judgment stage, when plaintiffs will not have the opportunity to amend their pleadings. During our breakout session, a distinguished panel of practitioners will discuss the pros and cons of Rule 12 motions, and audience participation will be encouraged. Speakers TBA

Medical Malpractice: Unprecedented Times: Unmasking the Secrets to Trying Cases

During a Pandemic Three experienced trial lawyers offer insights from their trials of medical malpractice cases during the COVID pandemic period, from 2020-2022. This panel discussion will include the speakers' insights on logistical issues, procedural challenges, dealing with witness and jurors, and the impact of the pandemic on jurors' views of plaintiffs and health care providers,
Jerry Allen, Jr., Walker Allen Law, Barrett Johnson, Huff Powell & Bailey,
Pat Meacham, Parker Poe Adams & Bernstein, LLP

Workers Comp: "Futility" Cases In Workers' Compensation

This session will provide a history of "futility" cases, the issues related to these cases, and the lessons learned from two recent cases from the Court of Appeals: Griffin v. Absolute Fire Control and Monroe v. MV Transportation.

Practice Group Breakout Sessions Block 2

Construction: Update on Coverage Issues Implicit in Construction Disputes

This session will cover variety of coverage issues including Additional Insured Coverage: Looking at Westfield Ins. Co. v. Weaver Cooke Construction and Certain Underwriters at Lloyd's v. Stock Bld. Supply, LLC; Trigger of Coverage: Looking at cases building on or applying Erie v. Builders Mutual and Harleysville v. Hartford; Duty of Defense: Looking at Craige v. GEICO, an auto case that has big implications for CGL policies more broadly; and, Sea Change?: Crescent University City Venture vs. Trussway and what effects it may have on coverage for construction disputes, declaratory judgment actions, and the use of extrinsic evidence in declaratory judgment actions.

B. Dan Morton, Ennis Baynard Morton, Medlin & Brown

Employment/Government: TBD

Product Liability: TPFAS Litigation: Past, Present, and Future. Per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances ("PFAS") have been used for decades in products such as non-stick cookware, water-repellant clothing, stain resistant fabrics and carpets, fire fighting foam, and certain food packaging. Regulation and litigation related to water contamination, property damage, and personal injuries allegedly resulting from PFAS contamination is on the rise and the subject of daily news and Hollywood movies. During our breakout session, we will discuss past and present PFAS cases (with a focus on the federal MDL which includes more than 2,000 cases and rising relating to use of PFAS in Aqueous Film Forming Foam (AFFF) firefighting foam), and trends impacting future litigation.

General: Nuclear Verdicts in Commercial Trucking

Extreme verdicts are popping up all over the country in various types of cases. We've all seen verdicts in the hundreds of millions to even billions of dollars, and what's notable about these extreme verdicts is that many are for a singular plaintiff. If you'd asked any seasoned defense attorney or insurance adjuster where they'd value the case when it first came across their desks, it's doubtful any would have thought they were worth tens or hundreds of millions of dollars. Some because of the fact pattern, and some because the verdict would exceed any other verdict in a similar case type in the venue and even the country.
